Educational Announcements

Parents desiring to gain reliable information concerning the best schools for their sons and daughters, and young men and women who desire to avail themselves of the best educational facilities, are invited to consult carefully the educational announcements on the following pages.

These announcements well represent the school and college equipment of the country. They contain much interesting and instructive information which cannot fail to be exceedingly helpful in a study of the educational opportunities offered from Kindergarten to University.

For the sake of convenience the educational announcements are grouped, as nearly as possible, according to the following classifications:

Universities
Colleges for Men
Colleges for Women
Junior Colleges for Women
Co-educational Colleges
Boys' Preparatory Schools
Girls' Preparatory Schools
Co-educational Preparatory Schools
Theological Schools
Schools of Art
Schools of Music
Kindergarten Schools
Schools of Physical Education
Professional and Correspondence Schools
Military and Naval Schools
Business Colleges, etc.

Three indexes covering the educational announcements may be found in the back part of this volume: 1st, according to type of the schools; 2nd, by states; 3rd, by alphabetical arrangement.

Requests for additional information concerning any of the schools designated will receive prompt attention, but in order to serve inquirers with entire satisfaction it is necessary to know the type of school desired, the section of country most convenient, amount to be expended, religious denomination, and any special characteristics of the student that may assist in the selection.

Address all inquiries to "EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT," WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA, 670 Cass Street, Chicago, Ill.

BOSTON UNIVERSITY

Located in the heart of Boston, the University offers its students the best of courses in a most favorable environment of culture and history.

Boston University's ten schools and colleges, each an institution of recognized standing in its field, offer comprehensive curricula of high academic and cultural standard, including all of the traditional subjects and many additional courses of an advanced and special nature. They enjoy the distinction of not allowing their usefulness to be limited either by tradition or precedent,—of being unafraid to pioneer in chosen fields,—of welcoming opportunities to adapt their service to the ever-growing and constantly changing needs of a many-sided constituency. Serving intimately a vast metropolitan community of over two million Boston University, nevertheless, draws its student enrollment from every section of the United States and its possessions. Dartmouth College

Hanover, New Hampshire

Founded by royal charter from George III, 1769. The charter of the College was an outgrowth of a plan of the Reverend Eleazar Wheelock for the education of Indians. The idea of the founder was early modified and Dartmouth's development has been that of the other New England colleges. The attempt to expand its function and change its title to that of a university, which occurred in 1816, resulted in the famous law-suit known as the Dartmouth College Case, which brought decision in favor of the College.

Dartmouth College has now a restricted enrollment of 2,000 students and a faculty numbering over 200.

At present the courses of undergraduate instruction lead to the degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science. Beginning with the class graduating in 1929 the Arts degree only will be given.

The Associated Schools are:

The Medical School — Established in 1798. Candidates for the A. B. or B. S. degree in Dartmouth College may satisfy the specific requirements of both the College and the Medical School in three years, and may elect the first year in medicine as the senior year in college. Dartmouth Medical School has bestowed no degrees since 1914.

John P. Bowler, Dean

The Thayer School of Civil Engineering — Established 1867, essentially a graduate school, which offers a general course of study and practice in Civil Engineering, so developed as to include the essential principles of all important branches.

Raymond R. Marsden, Dean

The Amos Tuck School of Administration and Finance — Founded by Edward Tuck in 1900. A graduate school offering a two-year course in business administration, leading to the degree of Master of Commercial Science. Open to graduates of approved colleges.

William R. Gray, Dean

Application for admission to the College should be addressed to E. Gordon Bill, Director of Admission; for admission to the associate graduate schools, to the official whose name appears below the description of the school to which admission is sought.

WASHINGTON, PENNSYLVANIA

Location

The College is located in Washington, Pennsylvania, a town of about 25,000 inhabitants, situated among the foothills of the Allegheny mountains, noted for its healthfulness.

History

The College is known as the oldest College west of the Allegheny Mountains, and traces its origin to classical schools founded in 1780. It was chartered as an academy in 1787 and as a college in 1802. Its alumni exceed 4,500, a large proportion of whom have attained positions of prominence in church and state.

Curriculum

The College has always made a specialty of the preparation of men to pursue professional study, and four-fifths of its alumni have entered the professions of theology, medicine and law. Its elective system is adapted to give the best preparation for students intending to pursue these professions and to engage in teaching or business.

Physical Training

Attention to physical training under competent medical advice and in a well equipped gymnasium and athletic field, has been required for the last twenty years.

WILSON COLLEGE

A fully standardized College for the Higher Education of Women under positive Christian influences.

Wilson College is beautifully located in the Cumberland Valley in south central Pennsylvania. It occupies a group of seventeen fine buildings, modern in construction and equipment. It limits its resident students to four hundred, all of whom must be regular candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science. Its faculty numbers forty-six. Its graduates are fully prepared to go on with professional studies in the best universities or to teach. Its aim, however, is that intellectual culture and Christian character which constitute a liberal education. Physical Education and Music have an important place in the curriculum.

PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA

Founded in 1869 as a college of Liberal Arts. The first catalogue states: "The object of the college is to furnish education to young women equal to that given to young men"; the degree of A.B. has been granted from the beginning.

Situated in the beautiful residential section of the East End known as Woodland Road, the location combines the advantages of the city and country. Apart from the noise of the city yet it is within five minutes of the car lines. A natural ampitheatre provides a beautiful place for pageants and May Festivals attended by many thousands biennially. Athletic grounds afford ample opportunity for all activities. The dormitory life is particularly attractive and homelike and day students share in all the activities of the college.

A four-year course leads to the degree of A.B. The courses in Education with practice teaching in the public schools gives the teacher's certificate and professional certificates are given in the special departments of Music, Social Service, and Spoken English. Students are able to take advantage of unusual opportunities in Art and in Music which Pittsburgh provides. The College is thoroughly Christian in spirit, but undenominational. It is the only woman's college in Western Pennsylvania and numbers four hundred students. The College is rated Class "A" on all official lists and admitted on full membership to the American Association of University Women. During the last year new property has been secured adjoining the college campus and a building program is in hand.

Blue Mountain College

Blue Mountain, Mississippi

Standard "A" Grade College. Member Southern Association of Colleges and American Association of Colleges.

An endowed college for women located in the hill country of North Mississippi, seventy-five miles from Memphis. Situated on the side of beautiful "Blue Mountain," one of the two highest elevations in the state—the other being just one mile away.

Campus of thirty-six acres, with huge forest trees and springs of pure freestone water, flowing one hundred thousand gallons daily.

Nine buildings. Five dormitories, accommodating about two hundred and seventy-five students. Two of the dormitories are operated on the "self-help" plan, where the students do all of the house-work, thus reducing expenses considerably.

New administration building and dormitory, costing $250,000, will be ready for summer session.

Exceptional faculty of experts trained in the best colleges, universities and conservatories of America and Europe. Special advantages in piano, pipe organ, violin, voice culture, expression, home economics, art.

Entrance only by graduation from accredited high school or by examination. No preparatory department.

A sincere moral influence pervades the institution.

Swimming pool and tennis courts on the campus. College golf links adjoin the campus.

Eleven weeks' summer session begins early in June.

Regular session opens September 19th, 1928.

WARD-BELMONT, a junior college for young women, accredited by the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States and maintaining a high school department likewise accredited, offers superior instruction in literary work, music, art, expression, secretarial science, and physical education.

The fact that over fifty colleges and universities are receiving our students for advanced college standing with full credit is evidence of the thoroughness of our academic work. Each member of the college staff is a B.A. graduate of a reputable college and 5/6 of these instructors have M.A. or higher degrees.

All departments are in the hands of specialists who strive always to maintain a wholesome and inspiring atmosphere assuring breadth of culture and enthusiasm for work.

Our music faculty is probably the most expensively maintained one in any school for girls in America. Work of the highest grade is done as is shown by the recent acceptance of one of our students by the Metropolitan Opera Company after only three years' preparation exclusively in Ward-Belmont. This is a record conservatories have long sought to attain. Other Ward-Belmont students are successfully concertizing.

Patronage by states and by persons is equally divided between North and South. Your daughter will gain much through contact with representative young women from over thirty-five states.

Through the organization of our home department individual attention is given each student in matters of health, social life, etc. Excellent food well served, comfortable rooms with every convenience, all worth while sports and numerous extra-curricula activities add to the enjoyment of school days spent at Ward-Belmont.

We invite detailed inquiries. References required upon registration.

The BERRY SCHOOLS

MOUNT BERRY, GEORGIA

A Christian Industrial School for Boys and Girls of the Mountain and Rural Districts of the South

DISTINCTIVE FEATURES:

(1) A two day a week work requirement under expert supervision which inculcates habits of industry and enables every student to learn a trade while obtaining a first class academic education.

(2) Non-sectarian, but emphatically Christian. Bible required throughout the student's course. Regular attendance at church and Sunday School required.

(3) Only country boys and girls who are of the highest standard morally, mentally and physically, and who are financially unable to obtain an adequate education elsewhere, are accepted.

(4) A thorough training is given in grammar school subjects as well as those of the high school; students may enter with any degree of education.

(5) To give a thorough practical training which will fit the boy or girl for intelligent and prosperous rural life and leadership, is Berry's aim.

(6) Berry believes that true education is life and that we learn to do by doing. To this end, all the industrial operations of the school are performed by the students, and they also share in the social, religious and governmental affairs.

(7) The school is on the accredited list of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

(8) The Junior College Department prepares young men and women to enter the junior classes of standard colleges or fits them for special work in agriculture, domestic science, education, mechanics and business.

(9) The student body is 100% Anglo Saxon and native American.

(10) The total enrollment is 800, and in the 25 years since the School was founded, 6,000 worthy and needy boys and girls have been educated.

(11) 350 students are annually given an opportunity to work out their entire school expenses, thus bringing a high school education within reach of thousands who could otherwise never obtain one.

Are you interested in building an efficient Christian citizenship for America out of boys and girls who would never have an opportunity except for Berry? I have given 25 years of my life to this work without financial compensation. Will you share the joy of this work with me?

Additional information cheerfully given.

REV. A. K. WHITE, A.M., D.D.
Location: ZAREPHATH, N. J.

Situated thirty-five miles from New York City. Over eight hundred acres, bounded on one side by the Millstone River and bisected by the charming Delaware and Raritan Canal. A place of loveliness and action. Sister Institution to Belleview College. Offers full preparatory and college courses. No test of any particular religious creed is applied for admission. Alma College and Belleview College, orthodox and Methodistic in faith, take an emphatic stand for Bible Christianity. They are not in sympathy with so-called "higher criticism," and, though eager to know and teach all of the advanced truths of science, they draw the line on mere speculative philosophy and hypotheses which obliterate and destroy the old paths and mark out nothing certain and reliable in their stead. Young men and young women at Alma and Belleview live in a clean and wholesome Christian atmosphere. Both schools insist on high moral standards.
In connection with Alma College in New Jersey is the Zarephath Bible Institute, and in connection with Belleview College in Denver is the Denver Bible School—schools which offer general missionary and ministerial training on orthodox lines.

Rates are exceptionally easy. Opportunity is given in each school for a limited number of students to work in partial payment for board and tuition.

BEREA, KENTUCKY

STANDING at the Gateway of the Appalachian Highlands, serving the mountain people; according to Professor Andrews of Teachers' College, New York, stretching "a dollar further in securing educational results than probably any other institution in the country."

Approximately 2700 students, from fifteen to forty years of age, are instructed in courses ranging all the way from the A.B.C's to the A.B. degree. Special emphasis is placed upon rural teacher training and Economics, Nursing, Business, etc. Berea gives its students free tuition, furnished rooms, with light and heat, at 60 cents a week, and board at $2.50 a week—a rate of 11 cents a meal. The cost of a year's schooling at Berea, including board, fees and all expenses, except clothing and travel, is $150. All students work an average of two hours a day.

Berea College is religious, but non-sectarian, receives no aid from any state or society, and is mainly dependent on the annual gifts of patriotic citizens.

$128 will pay the net annual cost to Berea of one student.

The College of the Ozarks

Clarksville, Arkansas

A "work your way" school in the heart of the Ozarks, offers courses in the following Departments:

Preparatory; Liberal Arts and Sciences; Conservatory of Music and Fine Arts; Household Arts—Cookery, Dietetics, Needlework, Design, Dressmaking; Commercial—Shorthand and Typing, and the following attractive features:

The students work on an average of two hours per day in connection with the college industrial activities, such as farming, dairying, etc.

Thoroughly Christian but free from sectarianism. Professors, by precept and example, create a thorough Christian atmosphere in which to live. Bible study, Daily Chapel, Sunday school and Church attendance are required of all students.

Standard four year Academy is maintained for those who have not had High School training.

The four year College course leads to the Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science Degrees. Graduates who have taken the required number of educational courses are eligible to receive the Arkansas State Teacher's license.

Present enrollment 350—Co-educational.

Are you interested in giving the young people of the Ozarks an opportunity to develop into an efficient Christian citizenship? The College of the Ozarks exists to help these ambitious boys and girls prepare for and fit themselves into life.

Will you take some share in this far reaching enterprise?

The Choate School

Wallingford, Connecticut

The School was founded in 1896 by the Hon. William G. Choate and Mark Pitman.

Its location, about twelve miles north of New Haven, has proved to be one of the most healthful in New England.

Its numbers are large enough to make for strong esprit de corps and athletic rivalry, without being so large as to prevent a distinct family life and the necessary attention to individuality and development.

Its policy is by a large corps of masters to give to each boy what he individually needs, without holding to any rigid system of forms.

Its effort is unsparing to strengthen in the boys' minds high motives of action which shall permanently control their lives; and to send out boys who are trained for responsible citizenship.

The Lower School prepares boys for the Upper School, as the Upper School prepares them for college.

A catalogue of the School is sent upon application, with the names of those who know intimately the School's work and character.

CHAUNCY HALL SCHOOL

Founded 1828

COPLEY SQUARE BOSTON, MASS.

A day and resident school that for one hundred years has successfully trained its students, not only to pass entrance requirements, but also to achieve marked success after entering college or technical school.

The school is limited to one hundred and twenty-five students, which enables us to give each student the personal attention necessary to developing his abilities most efficiently.

Students are taught the art of study; the value of close and persistent application; to think clearly and to express themselves concisely and accurately.

About ninety of our students take the College Entrance Board examinations each year and the high grades obtained in these tests is the best evidence of the value of our methods.

The school makes a specialty of preparing boys for the MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY where we now have one hundred and twenty-five students in attendance.

Approximately one-third of the students are boarding students and are placed in carefully selected homes with but three or four students in each home. All sections of the United States, as well as many foreign countries, are represented in our enrollment.

DANA HALL

Three Departments

Tenacre For young girls from eleven to fifteen years of age. A beautiful country estate, with three large, perfectly equipped, modern homes, providing accommodations for forty pupils. Ample school building. Courses of study correspond to those of seventh and eighth grades of grammar school, and first year of high school, leading to the College Preparatory or General Course at Dana Hall; fine gymnasium, outdoor sports and horseback riding under trained teachers, etc. At Tenacre individual needs of pupils are carefully met. A strong foundation is laid in the fundamental branches and also in the elements of one foreign language. The school is about ten minutes' walk from Dana Hall and the surroundings are noted for their beauty.

Dana Hall The scope of this well-known school includes not only a College Preparatory Course, but a well-selected General Course for students who do not desire to enter college. Dana Hall represents thorough scholarship, general culture, and the many advantages of a large, highly organized school. Its graduates are admitted without examination to all the leading colleges for women that accept students by certificate. The school possesses the advantages of both country and city life. Gymnasium work in a large and thoroughly equipped building and field sports are in charge of competent physical directors. Under proper chaperonage the students enjoy the rare opportunities which Boston offers in music and art.

Pine Manor The Post-Graduate Department of Dana Hall. Established in 1911 for students who desire to take up advanced courses of study. Graduates of High Schools may find here a congenial and stimulating environment. Excellent instruction in Economics, Psychology, Philosophy, Astronomy, Modern History, Civics, History of Art, Advanced French and Spanish, Italian, English Literature, and a thoroughly practical course in Domestic Science and Arts. A Musical Certificate is granted to pupils who meet the requirements.

Wellesley stands at the head of the list in the official health records of Massachusetts.

2 and 4 Chestnut Street, Boston, Mass.

RESIDENCES: 91, 93 and 95 Mt. Vernon Street

Mrs. Margaret J. Stannard, Director
Mrs. Gladys Beckett Jones, Assoc. Director

The Garland School was established in 1902 to provide special training for Home and Community Responsibilities.

The regular course, leading to diploma, is two years in length. Shorter courses are offered for advanced students.

These courses are planned to follow School or College work and to teach girls to apply the knowledge, gained by general study and experience, to the problems of daily living—the problems of Food, Clothing, and Use of Money and Child Care and Training.

The School House, on Beacon Hill, is convenient for visits to markets, shops and social and civic centers, in connection with the course of study.

Accommodation for resident students is provided in Home Houses where every girl has experience in homemaking activities.

The School is of immediate value to a girl for the intelligent direction of her own life; to increase her usefulness as a community worker; and to prepare her for the care of a home.

of THEOLOGY and MISSIONS

A Graduate School of Theology, Missions and Religious Education, of the highest grade, for college graduates and post-graduate students, with large enrolment of regular candidates studying this year for the degrees of B.D., M.R.E. or S.T.M.

A Theological, Missionary, Religious-educational College; a strong curriculum combining professional training with general culture; in the deepest sense a Christian and Christo-centric college course; for students fitted for college and called to Christian service; notable enrolment; degrees of Th.B. and B.R.E.

Highest educational standards. Eminent Faculty. The student body represents a very large number of colleges, universities, and professional schools.

A great center of absolute loyalty to the evangelical faith of the deity of Christ, His vicarious death and His bodily resurrection.

The aim of Gordon College of Theology and Missions is:— to provide a ministry of high grade spiritually and intellectually for churches in city, country and town; to provide missionaries of the finest type of heroism and culture for mission fields abroad and at home; to train genuine experts in church work and religious education. A large number of Alumni in positions of influence and responsibility.

Gordon College should have a place in the benevolence budget of evangelical churches and Christians everywhere.

KNOX
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

GALESBURG, ILLINOIS
Established as a department of Knox College in 1883

The study of music may be pursued with private teachers, and ofttimes with splendid results, but sooner or later the music student, as well as the literary aspirant, must seek the institution where high ideals are contagious. For this reason, the serious music student finds advantages in the study of music at Knox Conservatory which are scarcely to be gained in larger schools devoted entirely to that purpose. On the other hand, the college student receives a broader education, either directly or indirectly, from a course of study pursued in a musical atmosphere such as is found at Knox.

"He is a genius," men said

No judgment could have been more unfair

AS the first Secretary of the Treasury, Alexander Hamilton achieved a brilliant record. Matchless in debate, clear visioned and broad-minded, he reestablished the financial honor and good name of his country in the chaotic days following the Revolution.

So great was Alexander Hamilton's ability that many men called him a genius. Speaking of this false impression he said: "All the genius I have lies in this. When I have a subject in hand, I study it profoundly. Day and night it is before me. I explore it in all its bearings. My mind becomes pervaded with it. Then the effort which I have made is what people are pleased to call the fruit of genius. It is the fruit of labor and thought."

Today we glibly place the stamp of genius on our business leaders. "This one," we say, "is an organization genius. That one a production wizard. That other a born salesman, a genius."

We call Carnegie a genius. But we forget the long and tireless hours in the mills, his prodigious industry, his unflagging application.

We call Schwab a genius. But we forget the endless experiments in chemistry, the problems in engineering, and the unfailing study of men and methods.

Business success today does not come to the genius. It comes to the man well grounded in business fundamentals, to the man who sees clearly the close relation between all departments of business. It comes to the man whose knowledge of business gives him a vision and initiative far beyond that of other men. Such a man must stand out from the crowd.

How do these men obtain this clarity of vision, this unswerving initiative which marks them as leaders? Many of them build slowly, painfully, accumulating knowledge thru long years of personal experience. At 50 or 60 they at last achieve success. They still have perhaps ten or fifteen years of larger reward ahead.

Others achieve the same results, but by a surer, quicker and less expensive route.

Facts about a Famous Course

Nineteen years ago Joseph French Johnson, late Dean of the School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance of New York University, assembled into one Course the accumulated experience of the country's most successful business men. He saw the necessity of a carefully directed course of study for men who would shorten the road to success. Most appropriately the Institute, of which he was the first president, bears the name of Alexander Hamilton who knew so well the value of systematic study.

Today over 358,000 men have enrolled for this Modern Business Course and Service. These men average 37 years of age at the time of enrolment. 60% of them are owners and officers of successful businesses, 25% are department heads, and 15% are clerks and assistants.

Only a training which is authoritative and practical could have the endorsement of these men who constitute the Advisory Council of the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

T. COLEMAN DUPONT, the well-known business executive; PERCY H. JOHNSTON, President of the Chemical National Bank of New York; DEXTER S. KIMBALL, Dean, College of Engineering, Cornell University; JOHN HAYS HAMMOND, the eminent consulting engineer; FREDERICK H. HURDMAN, Certified Public Accountant and business advisor; DR. JEREMIAH W. JENKS, the statistician and economist.

This Course is for men who are already successful but who realize that they have blind spots in their business equipment. If you are such a man, we will gladly send you the interesting booklet, "Forging Ahead in Business." It describes the Course and Service in detail. Simply write us at 502 Astor Place, New York City.

Dr. Esenwein

How to write, what to write, and where to sell

Write for publication—serious books, fiction, drama. Develop the gifts you possess. Make a notable contribution to literature. Turn your knowledge and attainments to profitable account.

Short-Story and Article Writing, Play Writing, Versification, Writing for Children, Public Speaking, etc., taught personally by Dr. J. Berg Esenwein, for many years editor of Lippincott's Magazine, and a staff of proved literary experts. Constructive criticism. Frank, honest, helpful advice. Skilled assistance along modern lines.

One pupil has received over $5000 for work written mostly in spare time. A physically handicapped student has written a successful novel for young girls. Another student received over $1000 before completing her first course.

The portfolios of prominent people often yield very seasonable and salable material. If you have any thought of writing, let us advise you confidentially. The universities recognize the quality of our work, for over a hundred members of the English faculties of higher institutions are studying with our Literary Department. The editors recognize it, for they are constantly recommending our courses.

We publish The Writer's Library, descriptive booklet free. We also publish The Writer's Monthly, an indispensable magazine for literary workers, sample copy 25c. Besides our teaching service, we offer a manuscript criticism service.

Every summer 1,000 boys, 10 to 20, frolic and grow in Culver Summer Schools

Your boy—and Culver

Do you wish your boy to become a determined, clean-minded, characterful man? Culver seeks to make this ideal a reality in each of its 700 cadets. It is creating in them the desire for the wholesome things of life—giving them a keenness for study, a love of fair play—laying the foundation which will enable them to meet and to master the problems at college, in business—and in life.

And to carry this work out, Culver provides every facility. Exceptional instructors, men who command respect. Academic and athletic equipment complete in every detail.

Of Culver graduates in his freshman class, the Dean of one of the most prominent colleges in the east wrote: "The record of your delegation, considering its size, is incomparably the best of any private school in the class."

The Summer Schools

The distinguished Admiral who commanded the American Fleet with Beatty directs the activities of Culver's Summer Naval School. The officers of Culver's famous Black Horse Troop instruct in the Summer Cavalry School. Experts from far and wide teach the boys from 10 to 14 in the Woodcraft School the fascinating lore of the woods.

Culver will be glad to send a special booklet on any of the Summer Schools, or on the Winter School, which offers secondary school courses.

A School The Boy Will Like

Isn't that what you want for YOUR boy? You know how any boy will WORK when the work appeals to him and when the surroundings are congenial. That is one of the great secrets of the success of

St. John's Military Academy

This great school is famous for the ESPRIT of its students and the loyalty of its graduates. It takes a boy at the most impressionable period of his life and by a happy combination of military routine, study, and athletic sports, arouses first his INTEREST, which is quickly followed by loyalty and enthusiasm. With this attitude toward his school, the boy is ready to absorb much more than can be taught from books. The education at St. John's is not a mere "book learning" education. It is broader and deeper. It TRAINS a boy for life and MAKES HIM a GOOD citizen.

The good work of St. John's has been recognized by the government, which maintains a unit of the R. O. T. C. at the school under the supervision of Regular Army Officers.

A Big School for Little Boys

ATTENDANCE—There are two hundred fifty boarding pupils of Caucasian race, and ranging in age from six to fourteen years.

FACULTY—The teaching force consists of twenty-six men and women, chosen not only for their teaching ability but for their high character and interest in boys.

LOCATION—The school is located in the country midway between the business section of Los Angeles and the ocean. The land is high and near enough to the ocean to get the cooling breeze each afternoon.

HEALTH—The school has had a remarkable health record. It has lost only one boy by death during the twenty years of its existence and that one by an isolated case of spinal meningitis. Epidemics are rare and a call by the doctor is unusual.

MILITARY—There being no high school course, all of the cadets, both officers and privates, are of grammar school age. No one can overestimate the value in character development to a boy at this formative age when placed in such a position of responsibility as the command of a company.

BUILDINGS—There are twenty-three buildings belonging to the school and all those in which the pupils sleep are constructed of hollow tile so as to make them safe from fire.

RELIGION—The school is undenominational. Although the headmaster is a Protestant, the teaching force includes Catholics and Christian Scientists, and the student body has among its members pupils of many shades of religious belief.

ALWAYS OPEN—On account of the extreme youth of the pupils the school never closes, so that parents who are abroad may know that there is no danger of their sons being without proper supervision at the close of the school year. There are usually about seventy-five pupils in attendance during the summer.

SUMMER SCHOOL—Three weeks are spent each summer at our permanent camp on Catalina Island and for the remainder of the summer headquarters are at the school, the pupils making frequent trips to mountains and beaches.

COURSES OF STUDY—The courses of study are about the same as the first to the eighth grade of the public school, there being some additions, such as a foreign language and the military drill, together with the changes made possible by the small classes.

EXPENSES—The rate for boarding pupils varies from $800.00 to $900.00 for the school year and the extras, including uniforms, will come to approximately another hundred dollars.

BAILEY MILITARY INSTITUTE

Accredited by Southern Association—Supervised by War Department

Probably the best advertisement of the standing, thoroughness, stability and general excellence of BAILEY is expressed by a quotation from the report of the U. S. Army officer who inspected Bailey last spring. In his report to the War Department, the inspector said:

"BAILEY MILITARY INSTITUTE is a preparatory school of high standing. It is essentially military in character and has a student body of such strength as to give good assurance of its ability to sustain the R. O. T. C. enrollment required by law.

"In view of the favorable conditions reported above and the personal impressions gained concerning the attitude of the authorities and students, I recommend that Government aid be granted BAILEY MILITARY INSTITUTE under the provisions of Army Regulations 145-10, by the establishment thereat of a unit of the Junior Division of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

"This is a well founded school of good repute. Its present student body is drawn from seven states. Its strength is not dependent upon local patronage. THE MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY ARE MEN OF HIGH TYPE AND THE APPEARANCE OF THE STUDENTS AND THE ATMOSPHERE OF THE SCHOOL IS EXCELLENT."

Acting upon the above recommendation the Secretary of War ordered established May 4, 1927, a Junior Division of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps at Bailey Military Institute.

Thirty-Eighth Session Opens September 18, 1928.

California Military Academy of Palo Alto

A preparatory school of the first class, located near Stanford University at Palo Alto, the educational center of the West. The school has new buildings on a beautiful estate, every facility for physical training and a fine swimming pool. Climatic conditions make outdoor life a pleasure throughout the year.

The course of instruction begins with the fifth grammar grade and ends with complete preparation for college. The military work, under ex-officers of the regular army, is designed as an aid in character building and in physical development. All student activities are encouraged, including a good military band.

Thorpe Academy for Boys Under 15 Years

Lake Forest, Illinois

Col. William F. Thorpe, Superintendent

Fits boys for secondary school

The aim of the Thorpe Academy is to give to the boys a well-rounded education and also to develop in them for life, good habits and sound character. Personal contact between teacher and pupil leads to these highly desirable results. The home atmosphere of the school is one of its striking features. The regulations are semi-military.

The motto of one of the boys' clubs at Thorpe is "Learn How to be Perfect." Could a more inspiring motto have been chosen? Such is the sentiment that pervades the school!

The Thorpe School is non-sectarian, and only Protestant boys are accepted. Cadets attend chapel service every morning. Concerts and receptions are attended by the cadet corps and the faculty. The craving of the boy for amusement is in many ways satisfied.

Camp Thorpe, in the wood, on Pelican Lake, Wis., has been established as the summer home of the school.

Parents are invited to make personal investigation of Thorpe Academy

WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA

¶ Notwithstanding the fact that the value of each edition of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA for up-to-date reference in regard to the living notables of the country is entirely supplanted by the succeeding new edition, the old volumes gain, year by year, in historical and reminiscent usefulness. The latest volume will, of course, always present the living with such increased completeness as to be indispensable for daily reference, yet the old editions become more and more valuable as records of those who have died, many of which it would be difficult, if not impossible, to find elsewhere. This fact is meeting with wide recognition, so that public, institutional and private libraries are keeping the old volumes as a series of the utmost value for presenting, with a completeness nowhere else attainable, the biographical history of the United States and all its varied interests and activities.

You should keep a complete file of Who's Who in America — from the first volume to the latest. If you have not procured the earlier volumes, BEGIN NOW.
